President's Report

Dear Central High School Supporter,

Every year at Central High School, we are reminded that some things change while others endure.

Students graduate and begin new chapters. New classes arrive eager to leave their mark. Leaders pass the torch to the next generation. Through it all, the spirit of Central remains constant, sustained by a community that believes in the power of education and the promise of every Eagle.

The story of Central High School is, at its heart, a story of A Legacy of Support. A Present Filled with Impact. A Future of Promise. A legacy is not simply what we leave behind. It is what we choose to pass forward.

For decades, alumni, parents, faculty, and friends have invested in Central High School, creating opportunities that extend far beyond a single school year. Their generosity has built a foundation that supports students today while ensuring future generations of Eagles have the tools and opportunities they need to succeed.

This year, that legacy of support translated into meaningful impact. Through scholarships, classroom and program grants, professional development, and strategic initiatives, the Central High School Foundation provided nearly $1 million in direct support to Central High School. These investments strengthen educational opportunities, support innovation, and help ensure that Central continues to provide an exceptional experience for every student.

At the same time, we remain focused on the future. The Foundation's growing endowments and the continued generosity of Eagle Nation position us to meet emerging needs, expand opportunities, and preserve the traditions that have defined Central High School for generations. None of this is possible without you.

Thank you for your vision, your generosity, and your commitment to Central High School. Together, we honor those who came before us, create opportunities for today's students, and build a future filled with promise for Eagles yet to come.

Forever an Eagle,

Matt Darling ('99)

Director's Report

Dear Central High School Supporter,

On behalf of the Board of Directors and the entire staff of the Central High School Foundation, I send our warmest wishes and hope this Annual Report finds you and your loved ones in good health and high spirits.

This Annual Report highlights the achievements of the past year and showcases the many opportunities made possible through your generosity. Every success we share is a direct result of your continued support. As Matt Darling reflected in his letter, the story of Central High School is one of A Legacy of Support. A Present Filled with Impact. A Future of Promise. The legacy of support that defines Central, combined with your commitment to our students and educators, continues to create a meaningful impact today while building a future filled with promise.

One of the most visible examples of your impact is our scholarship program. This year, the Central High School Foundation awarded 105 scholarships worth more than $423,000 to Eagles pursuing educational opportunities across the country. What began with a $2,000 gift from a member of the Central High School Class of 1932 and the vision of Principal G. E. "Doc" Moller has grown into a scholarship endowment exceeding $3.6 million. It stands as a powerful reminder that a single act of generosity can create opportunities for generations of Eagles.

While scholarships help Eagles pursue opportunities beyond graduation, Foundation support is also making a meaningful difference in the lives of students currently walking the halls of Central High School. This year, grants and strategic investments supported experiences that challenged students academically, creatively, and personally, while turning classroom lessons into real-world learning opportunities.

Foundation-funded grants provided students in our science programs opportunities to conduct authentic research using professional-grade laboratory and field equipment, participate in engineering and environmental science projects, and engage in hands-on learning experiences that mirror those found in college classrooms. Through these experiences, students gained insight into future careers while developing the critical thinking and problem-solving skills that will serve them well beyond high school.

Foundation-funded educational experiences also helped bring literature, history, culture, and civic engagement to life. English and social studies students deepened their understanding of the world through visits to the Dallas Holocaust and Human Rights Museum, the National Willa Cather Center, and the American Jazz Museum. Through a Foundation-supported trip to Washington, D.C., English Learner students toured the Capitol, White House, Smithsonian museums, and national monuments while strengthening their understanding of American history and government. For many students, it was their first time traveling by plane and an experience they will carry with them for the rest of their lives.

Reflecting on the impact of these opportunities, Central High School English Department Chair Jonathan Flanagan noted that Foundation-supported experiences "enhanced student learning by transforming abstract concepts into memorable, firsthand experiences."

Foundation support also created opportunities for students to pursue excellence in academics, the arts, and athletics beyond the traditional classroom. Music students earned All-State and All-City honors, received state and regional recognition, and continued to establish Central's band, orchestra, and vocal music programs among the strongest in Nebraska. Theater students developed their talents through full-scale productions, festivals, guest artist workshops, and professional instruction. Academic teams represented Central at state and national competitions, while student-athletes benefited from opportunities that helped them succeed both in competition and in the classroom. Across classrooms, stages, laboratories, athletic venues, competitions, and educational travel experiences, Foundation support reached every corner of Central High School.

The impact of these investments can certainly be measured in scholarships awarded, opportunities created, competitions won, honors earned, and lives changed. Yet their true value is found in the student who discovers a passion, gains confidence, finds a sense of belonging, or begins to see new possibilities for their future.

As we continue our work, we remain dedicated to honoring Central's legacy of support while creating new opportunities for future generations of Eagles. Every accomplishment highlighted in this report reflects the impact of your generosity today and the future of promise it creates for tomorrow's Eagles.

Thank you for your support of the Central High School Foundation. Together, we are honoring a legacy of support, creating meaningful impact today, and building a future filled with promise.

Once an Eagle, Always an Eagle,

Michele Roberts

Legacy Endowment Growth

What began with Stan Lipsey's ('45) inaugural gift in 2011 has grown through the generosity of dedicated supporters, creating lasting opportunities for generations of Central students.

The Central Connection

The Taylor family served as the Generation "C" chairs during the 2025-26 campaign, and they truly embody the Past, Present, and Future of Central High School.

Jennifer Johnson Taylor graduated from Central in 1991, followed by her sisters Kathryn Johnson Krueger (2004) and Molly Johnson (2014). Jen went on to earn her B.A. in Philosophy from Hamilton College in New York, then her Juris Doctor from the Creighton University School of Law, and now serves as Deputy City Attorney for the City of Omaha. When Jen started her family with her husband Darin, she knew she wanted to continue her family's legacy at Central High School. Cecilia Taylor graduated in the CHS Class of 2026, and Charles "Chuck" Taylor will be in the Central High School Class of 2032.

Generation "C" is the official support group recognized by Central High School. Gifts to this annual giving campaign allow the Central High School Foundation to provide for the emerging needs and challenges of Central including raising money for special projects and working to close the "opportunity gap." Thank You, Dionne! Welcome Back, Eric!

After 26 years at Central, including the last five as principal, Ms. Dionne Kirksey retired at the end of the 2026 school year. Her dedication and impact shaped generations of students, and her legacy will live on in the halls of Central. Congratulations on a well-deserved retirement, Dionne!

In March 2026, Omaha Public Schools announced that Eric Behrens ('92) was returning to the Nest as the next principal of Central. From leading Eagles to state titles on the court to now leading our school, Central's story continues through one of its own. Welcome home, Principal Behrens.

Congratulations to the 26th CHS Hall of Fame class that was inducted October 2025!

Your Impact

The Mission of the Central High School Foundation is "To improve the education of present and future students at Central High School." One way the mission is fulfilled is through classroom grants. Below is a sampling of the Central High School Foundation's impact on students. As you can imagine, this is only a fraction of the impact we have made with your help.

Scan the QR code to read more impact stories about how your support impacts our Central Eagles!

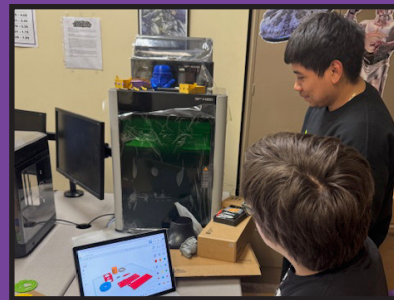

The Haven and The Nest

Your support of the CHS Foundation helps sustain The Haven and The Nest, programs that provide critical assistance to Central students and families facing food insecurity and financial hardship. Through access to food, clothing, hygiene products, school supplies, and other essential resources, students receive the support they need to remain focused on learning and achievement. By helping remove barriers to success, your generosity promotes student well-being, stability, and opportunity throughout the Central community.

Nebraska Thespian Festival

Your support of the CHS Foundation allows Central drama students to attend the Nebraska Thespian Festival, a three-day immersive experience featuring workshops, performances, competitions, and collaboration with students from across Nebraska. Through access to guest artists, professional training, and enriching educational opportunities, students are encouraged to develop their talents and expand their creative horizons. By making participation possible for students regardless of financial circumstances, your generosity helps foster confidence, artistic growth, and student achievement.

3D Printer

Your support of the CHS Foundation helped provide a new 3-D printer for students in digital media and graphic design courses. Through hands-on learning experiences, students can bring creative ideas to life, explore real-world design applications, and gain experience with technology used in growing career fields. By expanding access to innovative tools and resources, your generosity is helping students develop creativity, problem-solving abilities, and valuable technical skills for the future.

English Writing Workshops

Your support of the CHS Foundation allowed CHS English students to participate in writing workshops led by acclaimed authors such as Paul Volponi. Designed to strengthen literacy skills through a creative, hands-on approach, the workshops encouraged students to grow as readers, writers, and critical thinkers. By providing opportunities for students to learn directly from published authors, your generosity helped build confidence, engagement, and enthusiasm for writing while supporting Central High's broader efforts to strengthen literacy and academic success.

The Senior Recognition Ceremony for the Class of 2026 was held in May. This annual event is presented by Central High School, the Central High School Foundation, and Central High P.E.P. to honor graduating seniors. Graduating seniors from the Class of 2026 earned a total of $21.1 million in scholarships to further their education. Joshua Shapiro and Ximena Altuzar were awarded the DeEmmett Bradshaw Zerbe ('43) and Mason Speltz Zerbe ('48) Central High School Student of the Year Scholarships. Instrumental music teacher Jeffery Mount was named the Teacher of the Year.

I am grateful that Omaha Central has given me the opportunity to meet different people. During my time at Central, it taught me that I am capable of reaching my full potential. I am beyond grateful for the teachers that have helped me along the way. Central is full of amazing students and has definitely set the academic standard!

The 65-year reunion for the class of 1960 was a special time. Eagles from all across the country returned to Omaha for a luncheon at the Field Club as well as a school tour in September. Attendees had the opportunity to share a favorite memory or Central teacher who made an impact on their lives.

The class of 1965 celebrated its 60-year reunion with a weekend of reconnecting and reminiscing. Events included a Friday gathering at Roja, a Saturday school tour and CHS Foundation presentation, and an evening dinner at the Field Club. Good food, great conversations, and beautiful weather made for a memorable reunion.

The class of 1970 celebrated its 55-year reunion with classmates traveling from across the country to reconnect. Highlights included a Friday gathering at the Marriott, a tour of Central that showcased the school's many improvements, and an evening celebration at Gallery 1516 with food and music. The weekend left alumni excited for their 60-year reunion in 2030.

The class of 1975 enjoyed a successful reunion weekend featuring the Central football game against Papillion La Vista, a school tour, a banquet with dinner and dancing, and a gathering at Secret Park Bar. The events gave classmates plenty of opportunities to reconnect, share memories, and celebrate together.

2025 Class Reunions

A late jump on planning did not dampen the turnout for the class of 1980. Eagles gathered at Legends Patio Bar and Grill in November for an evening of camaraderie, nostalgia, and good times. It was great to see so many from the Class of "Eight - O," where Central Pride remains stronger than ever.

The class of 1985 reunion weekend began with a Thursday meet-and-greet at Inner Rail, followed by a Friday gathering at Secret Park Bar with food from Blackburn School culinary students. After the Central football game and a celebration at Dundee Dell, the group toured the school, cheered on the Huskers at Barrett's, and wrapped up the weekend at Saro with trivia.

The class of 1990 celebrated its 35-year reunion with a weekend of connection and memories. Festivities began Friday with a gathering at Let It Fly and the Homecoming football game at Central. On Saturday, classmates enjoyed a school tour and then gathered in the Capitol District Courtyard to watch the Husker game and reconnect.

1995 classmates reunited at the Central vs. North football game before gathering at Secret Park Bar for an evening together. The weekend continued with a school tour and breakfast on Saturday morning, followed by a celebration at Sips on 10th featuring cocktails, dinner, music, and the televised Bud Crawford fight.

The class of 2000 celebrated its 25-year reunion with a weekend of reconnecting and reminiscing. Activities included Friday's Homecoming football game, a Saturday morning tour of Central and its new addition, and an evening gathering at a classmate's home, where about 100 classmates came together to catch up.

The class of 2005 reunion was a weekend to remember. Activities included a Friday night football game and social gathering, a Saturday tour of the school, and an evening celebration with food, drinks, music, and conversation. With more than 165 classmates at the main gathering, the reunion was a great success.

The class of 2015 had a fantastic reunion weekend filled with memories. From the tailgate and homecoming game to exploring campus and gathering at Let It Fly, the weekend was full of great food, drinks, and even better company. Seeing everyone again for the first time since graduation made it truly special.

Jeannette James

Laura James

Jeannette Mallinson James

Central High School Class of 1943

Mary Jeannette Mallinson James, CHS 1943, passed away on March 8th, 2025 – just three and a half months shy of her 100th birthday. Jeannette's 99 years of life were marked by community, education, faith, dedicated motherhood, and service to others. Her legacy will continue to live on through her generous donation to the Central High School Legacy Fund which will impact Central students for many years to come.

Beginning during her years at Central High School, Jeannette immersed herself in her community. A deeply creative person and a lifelong learner, Jeannette became involved in a wide array of extracurriculars, including O-Book and The Register, A Capella and Girls' Glee Club, French Club, Roller Skating Club, and anything else she found interesting. Not only was she an active participant at Central High School, she was also a historian of her time as an Eagle. Following her passing, her children discovered Jeannette's personal archive, including many relics from her time at Central. As part of their generous donation to the Central High School Foundation, Jeannette's children included scrapbooks featuring newspaper clippings, full notebooks from some of her favorite classes, and mementos from various Central events. Jeannette carried these memories of Central with her for the rest of her life.

In the years after her graduation, Jeannette followed her creative passions to Grinnell College, where she studied architecture and fashion. When she moved back to Omaha, she met her husband, Lawrence James, who was finishing medical school. Following Larry's medical residency in Boston, they returned to Omaha to start their family. Jeannette and Larry had four children, Laura, Barry, Allison, and Chip. Jeannette always called the raising of her children her "greatest claim to fame." Their first-born child, Laura, suffered from cerebral palsy, and Jeannette lovingly dedicated her life to Laura's wellbeing and happiness.

As Jeannette's children look back on their childhood, and the impact their mother had on their fondest memories, they note the meticulous attention and care she put into decorating their childhood home on Bloomfield Drive. Drawing upon her college studies in architecture and combining that with learning how to refinish and upholster furniture, she left her personal touch in every corner of their home, the place she lived until the day she died. Outside of home, however, is where Jeannette made her most significant impact.

Still in the realm of design, Jeannette contributed both financially and creatively to the renovation of the libraries at Brownell Talbot, where her children attended school. She regularly spent time in the Lower School Library reading to students, and her children often meet former students who fondly remember those visits. Jeannette dedicated the renovation to her daughter, Laura, who passed away in 1990.

Jeannette's passion for education reached beyond her dedication to Brownell Talbot. Her children recall going on school field trips to the Joslyn Art Museum, only to discover that their mother was the docent who would be guiding them on their tour. They also remember trips all around the world in which, instead of relaxing on vacation, Jeannette would take them to every museum and historical site she could find. She had a fervent desire to learn — and never stopped her efforts in doing so for her entire life.

AMERICAN HISTORY I

Jeannette Mallinson

Central High

II HOUR

ROOM 119

September, 1942

June Commencement

Omaha
Central High School

Central High Auditorium
Friday, June 4, 1943

Jeannette's children say that what they want people to understand most about their mother is that she simply loved Omaha. Jeannette cared deeply about Omaha's history, and her children have memories of how frustrated she would become when old, historical buildings in the city were torn down. Her love for the city became manifest in the wide array of causes into which Jeannette put her energy throughout her life. Jeannette's lengthy resume paints a picture of a woman who tirelessly gave herself to her community in every capacity she could. While serving as chairperson or board member of many organizations, including the Fontenelle Forest Guild, Brownell Talbot Board of Trustees, Immanuel Hospital Auxiliary, and the Omaha Salvation Army Auxiliary, she also dedicated any free time to volunteering with the Omaha Symphony Guild, Omaha Community Playhouse Guild, Joslyn Women's Association, and the Metropolitan Omaha Medical Society Auxiliary, among countless others. In honor and support of her daughter, Laura, Jeannette also served as president of United Cerebral Palsy of Omaha.

Dear Jeannette,
You are the last one for me to find something for -
and I think it is hard for me, because I know what a heavy load you carry. I know you carry it with love and willingness.
I found this little poem and thought of you.

I long to be alone with God--
To thank Him for His grace,
And have a quiet, peaceful talk
In some secluded place.

But yet, confronting me each day
Were tasks I could not shirk.
"You just go right ahead," said God,
"We'll visit while we work."

It has been a pleasure to be in class with you.

Your friend in Christ
Jeanne Chikawa

When reflecting on their mother, and her death, her children think of Jeannette's perspective on their sister's passing. A line from "Gone from my Sight" by Henry Van Dyke, which was recited at Laura's funeral, reads, "And just at the moment when someone at my side says, 'There she goes!' there are other eyes watching her coming, and other voices ready to take up the glad shout, 'Here she comes!'" A woman of faith and dedicated congregant of Dundee Presbyterian Church, Jeannette took comfort in knowing that she would be with God when she passed away. Her spirit of community and service lives on through her friends and family, and in her legacy at Central High School.

*"So weep not, she's just gone on ahead
Don't think of her as being dead.
She's out of sight for a little while
And you'll miss her touch, and her little smile
But you know she is safe in the home above
Where there is nothing but Peace and Love.
And, surely, you would not deny her peace
And you're glad she has found release
Think of her there as a soul that is free
And Home at last, where she wanted to be."*

Helen Steiner Rice, excerpt from There Are No Words (read at Laura's funeral)

Legacy Giving Society

Established in 2011 with the inaugural contribution of Stanford Lipsey ('45), the Legacy Fund allows a donor to provide a financial contribution to the areas of greatest need at Central. The Legacy Fund is managed by the Central High School Foundation to ensure the donors' charitable gifts will grow over time and be distributed to make the greatest impact. The Jepsen Family Legacy Plaza and Dr. G.E. and Betty Moller Legacy Walkway were erected in 2019 to honor Legacy Fund donors. If you are interested in making a Legacy Fund gift, contact Michele Roberts at michele@chsfomaha.org.

Legacy Plaza
The Eagle stands for leadership, strength, courage, wisdom, and knowledge. After originally being known as the Hill Toppers and the Purple and Whites, the Eagle became the mascot in 1926. The Eagle has soared over Central ever since and provides a majestic focal point for Omaha's oldest and finest high school.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

$250,000 and Above

Legacy Walkway
The National Honor Society was formed in 1919 after a proposal by Central principal J.G. Masters. Within the proposal, character, leadership, scholarship and service were chosen as the "fundamental virtues most worthy of encouragement" in young people. Central is the second NHS chapter chartered.

REGISTER SOCIETY

$100,000 and Above
